The easiest route is from Stansted to Lamezia and these flights can be found at www.ryanair.com

We do appreciate that from other areas it can be a little harder at this moment (although flights are becoming more accessible all the time), another popular way is to fly to Rome by Ryanair (from most places in the country and Eire) and then get a connecting flight to Reggio through www.alitalia.com or www.airmalta.com

You can always also go to Palermo and get the train to Messina and ferry to Reggio (15 mins)

However you get there we are happy to pick you up for free from Lamezia or Reggio (di Calabria)

We look forward to seeing you in Italy

* should you book flights prior to confirming, we cannot guarantee a viewing or cash refund.
